Health and Well-being

Be Inspired Training staff and tutors aim to provide information, advice and guidance in order for you to maintain a health and well-being.

Maintaining health and well-being on a daily basis can be small, simple steps every day. Even when goals are not achieved we can re-visit and determine what steps we want to take.

Everyone is different and stress and trigger points will vary with each individual. Understanding how these work in your life is an important tool to enable you to cope and manage them.

Areas such as

- getting a good night sleep – some people need 8 hours, others can function on less.
- Carry out activities you enjoy such as spending time with friends or going to the gym
- Your environment – such as going for a walk or spending less time on the computer

Planning these simple steps will help to reduce stress and promote healthy living.

There are numerous resources available on-line and should you require specific information please either speak to your tutor or our Centre staff.
